

Spacetime Archives Club

Welcome

to the official Spacetime Archives Discord Server – a global hub for students, educators, and professionals passionate about STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics). We encourage you to share your knowledge, ask questions, and engage in meaningful discussions to foster academic growth and collaboration.

To maintain a respectful, safe, and productive environment, we ask all members to follow the guidelines below:

General Conduct

|   |  |
|---|--|
| Respect all members              | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Be kind, inclusive, and constructive in all interactions.</li><li>• Support the academic and personal growth of fellow members.</li></ul>  |
| Stay on Topic                    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Post in the appropriate channels. For example, share black hole research in #astrophysics, not #mathematics.</li><li>• If you believe a new topic deserves its own channel, reach out to an admin.</li></ul> |
| Weekly Participation Requirement | Members are expected to contribute at least once per week , either by sharing a resource, asking a question, or engaging in discussion.   |

Prohibited Content and Behavior

|   |  |
|---|--|
| Respect all members              | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Be kind, inclusive, and constructive in all interactions.</li><li>• Support the academic and personal growth of fellow members.</li></ul>  |
| Stay on Topic                    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Post in the appropriate channels. For example, share black hole research in #astrophysics, not #mathematics.</li><li>• If you believe a new topic deserves its own channel, reach out to an admin.</li></ul> |
| Weekly Participation Requirement | Members are expected to contribute at least once per week , either by sharing a resource, asking a question, or engaging in discussion.   |

Technical and Security Rules

|   |   |
|---|---|
| No Inappropriate Usernames, Nicknames, or Profile Pictures | This includes anything sexually explicit, discriminatory, or otherwise offensive.   |
| No Spamming  | Avoid excessive messages, emojis, or irrelevant content.  |
| No NSFW or Illegal Content                                 | This includes sexually explicit, pornographic, pirated, or hacked material.   |
| No Discrimination  | Racism, sexism, ableism, or any form of hate speech is strictly prohibited.   |
| No Bullying  | Treat everyone with respect. Personal attacks or targeted abuse will not be tolerated.                                    |
| No Discussions of Religion, Politics, or Sexual Content    | This server is strictly focused on academic and scientific discourse.   |
| No Publishing of Personal Information                      | Do not share others' real names, addresses, emails, passwords, financial information, etc. unless they consented to do so |

Moderation and Enforcement

|                             |   |
|-----------------------------|---|
| Moderator Authority  | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Moderators reserve the right to interpret and enforce rules as needed, including renaming nicknames or removing content.</li><li>• All decisions by moderators are final unless overturned by an admin.</li></ul> |
| Discretionary Action | In situations not explicitly covered by the rules, moderators may take action based on their judgment to protect the integrity of the server.   |

We are thrilled to have you here and can’t wait to see the ideas, questions, and insights you bring to this community. Let’s work together to create a welcoming, vibrant, and intellectually rich environment for all STEM enthusiasts!

If you have any questions, concerns, or suggestions, don’t hesitate to reach out to a moderator or administrator.

Welcome aboard – and let’s explore the universe of STEM together!